DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-6 are pending and subject to restriction.

Election/Restriction

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claim 1, drawn to a method for determining the ability of a compound to affect the differentiation of preadipocytes to adipocytes, classified in class 435, subclasses 4 and 29.
- II. Claim 2, drawn to a method for determining the ability of a compound to act as a PPAR γ antagonist, classified in class 435, subclasses 4 and 29.
- III. Claim 3, drawn to a method for determining the ability of a compound to act as an insulin analogue, classified in class 435, subclasses 4 and 29.
- IV. Claim 4, drawn to a method for determining the ability of a compound to act as a glucocorticoid or glucocorticoid analogue, classified in class 435, subclasses 4 and 29.
- V. Claim 5, drawn to a method for introducing DNA into human adipocytes, classified in class 935, subclass 52.
- VI. Claim 6, drawn to a method for identifying polypeptides secreted from cultured human adipocytes, classified in class 435, subclass 70.3.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

The processes are distinct from one another because they recite different and distinct steps which lead to different and distinct end points.

For example, the method of Group II requires a PPAR γ agonist in the differentiation medium which is not required by the method of Group I. The method of Group I requires insulin in the differentiation medium which is not required in the method of Group III. Group III requires a glucocorticoid in the differentiation medium which is not required by the method of Group IV. Group V requires insertion of DNA into the adipocyte which is not required in the methods of Groups I-IV or VI. Group VI requires fractionating polypeptides which is not required by the methods of Groups I-V.

The several inventions listed above are independent and distinct from one another as they have acquired a separate status in the art and require independent searches, particularly with regard to the literature searches. Clearly, a reference which would anticipate one of the above groups would not necessarily anticipate or even make obvious any of the others.

An undue burden would ensue from the examination of multiple methods which have distinct steps and end points. Burden lies not only in the search of US Patents, but in the search for literature and foreign patents and examination of the claim language and specification for compliance with the statutes concerning new matter, distinctness and scope of enablement.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the response to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a diligently-filed petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(h).
